

Operations: Move Colorado is run by an 11-person board of directors, PT operations manager, and PT senior advisor, as well as the members of three committees. We represent 26 members from across the transportation industry in Colorado.

Member Engagement: We have had seven member meetings so far this year, with an average attendance of 23 members. 70% of member organizations are regularly represented at member meetings

Program Highlights

- The City and County of Denver presented their progress with the Vibrant Denver Bond and how it could support transportation projects.
- Emily Hauber, President & CEO of Conventum Group, presented on the current federal transportation funding landscape.
- Jim Moody from Colorado Contractors Association and Monica Burton from 76 Group presented their campaign to repair our roads.
- Ron Papsford of DRCOG provided updates on metropolitan transportation planning, the regional transportation plan, and the transportation improvement program.
- The team behind the Colfax BRT took our members on a midday tour of the progress being made to connect Denver through this central corridor.
- Colorado State Treasurer, Dave Young, presented on the SB25-081 Infrastructure Funding Bill, which Move Colorado supported in 2024.
- Colorado Department of Transportation presented to the Policy Committee about the 2025 legislative session and the budgetary implications.
- Continued rigorous internal discussions about Move Colorado's purpose and priorities, which are represented in "Mapping Colorado's Future Transportation System" and four regional focus papers (published in July 2025).

Challenges

- Uncertain federal funding future
- State budget crisis and related cuts across the board
- Member firms are feeling the financial pressure, which has led to a drop in number of members

Opportunities

- Gubernatorial race in 2026 provides us an opportunity to "set the table" for the state's transportation priorities
- IIJA federal reauthorization is a chance to advocate for our industry

Goals for the Rest of 2025

- Host Transportation Policy Breakfast on September 25
- Develop IIJA Reauthorization Position Paper to share with federal government officials representing Colorado and other key stakeholders
- Present our recommendations from "Mapping Colorado's Future Transportation System" to partners throughout Colorado
- Host "Transportation Funding 101" events for incoming Transportation Commissioners and members
- Prepare for a Gubernatorial candidate debate on transportation issues after the primary election in 2026
